COMMISSIONERS GRANT FIRST TOWNSHIP AID

The Adams County commissioners today set aside $46,806.72 for county aid during 1953 and approved the first request for aid made this year.

Hamiltonban Twp. made the initial request and received $1,802.73 to be used toward placing stones on roads in the township as needed.

The amount listed for the 32 districts in the county for 1953 is the same as that granted last year. However, the county did not pay out the full amount in 1952. One district, Bendersville, made no request for such aid, Gettysburg which was scheduled to receive $3,730.11, completed sufficient work to receive only $3,470. Payment of the county aid is made after the completion of work on highways and streets and approval by the state Department of Highways of the work.

Comes From Gasoline Tax

County aid money comes to the county from the tax on gasoline and the commissioners have authority to distribute any portion of the amount they wish to the sub-districts of the county. The Adams County distribution is based on a formula involving both mileage of roads and population. About half the amount received by the county is retained for maintenance and eventual replacement of bridges under county supervision and to be used for road damages where the county is involved. The remainder goes to the townships and boroughs in the form of county aid funds for highway purposes.

The amounts that can be granted the various districts when they make application follow: Abbottstown, $333.96; Arendtsville, $298.32; Bendersville, $317.91; Berwick, $783.63; Biglerville, $501.47; Butler, $1,958.75; Conewago, $1,484.04; Cumberland, $2,214.66; East Berlin, $542.45; Fairfield, $328.02; Franklin, $3,312.56; Freedom, $607.88; Germany, $1,139.61; Gettysburg, $3,730.11; Hamilton, $1,167.45; Hamiltonban, $1,802.73; Highland, $818.43; Huntingdon, $2,437.38; Latimore, $1,952.99; Liberty, $1,124.66; Littlestown, $1,571.03; McSherrystown, $1,372.09; Menallen, $2,303.67; Mount Joy, $2,157.69; Mt. Pleasant, $2,707.82; New Oxford, $817.23; Oxford, $1,129.22; Reading, $2,125.83; Straban, $2,277.45; Tyrone, $1,871.19; Union, $1,233.48; York Springs, $284.04.

Fresh Storm Warning May Boost Death Toll In Flood

AMSTERDAM, The Netherlands (AP)—Warnings of new gales and high tides flashed fresh danger to battered Britain and Holland today as an international armada of planes and boats braved waves and near-freezing weather to rescue survivors of the continent's most frightful flood disaster since medieval times.

The unofficial death toll topped 1,600—including 1,053 in Holland—but the Amsterdam newspaper Het Vrije Volk indicated today that more than 2,000 persons may have lost their lives in the Netherlands alone.

As thousands of workers raced against time to shore up shattered sea defenses in Britain and the Netherlands, some 2,000 vessels and more than 125 planes rushed the evacuation of thousands numbed by cold and suffering from

JAIL MAN FOR THEFT OF AUTO

Last Saturday evening about 7 o'clock Richard Mummert, W. King St., Littlestown, saw a man start Mummert's car and drive away from in front of the Mummert home. The owner ran to the car, opened the door and got a look at the thief as the latter drove off.

The police chief filed a charge of larceny of an automobile against Dedrick before Justice of the Peace F. Loy Lindaman, Littlestown. In his investigation Chief Swab learned that Dedrick has been in Littlestown since January 24 and was employed at the foundry there. He has been questioned about another car theft and a case of tampering with a car in Littlestown.

LEAGUE IS TOLD CHRISTIANITY IS FAITH IN KOREA

"Korea means 'land of the morning calm', or, as we say, 'Chosen,'" declared Mrs. Sang Myung Pai, Korean educator and Protestant church leader, in an address before the Woman's League of Gettysburg College Tuesday afternoon at Christ Lutheran Church at 2:30 o'clock, during the Calendar Party to honor the birthdays of league members.

The petite brunette from the East who is principal of a Private Girls' High School in Seoul, was educated in Japan and Korea. She is one of a group of five teachers and educators sent to the United States to observe educational methods in this country which she has found "very much like her own in Korea." Mrs. Pai had planned to return to her country in June 1950, but when the Communists invaded her homeland, she remained in the United States to do graduate work at Columbia University and the University of Chicago.

"My own school has been almost completely destroyed," revealed the speaker. "About 800 of the children have fled to the hills and are going to school as well as they can. Some of the teaching staff went with them."

Shows Film On Korea

A colored, sound film entitled, "A School Day in Korea," was shown portraying the customs and culture of the land, the activities and types of study engaged in by the Korean school children. The classroom setting and equipment appeared to be completely modern with "English" as the only foreign language taught. Besides the regular curricula, the girls are taught needlework and all types of dancing. Home economics is stressed as well as outdoor sports. Picnic scenes were shown which disclosed the scenic wonders of the lakes, snow-capped hills and oriental blooms in the foothills.

Mrs. Pai, who wore a colorful native skirt of garnet velvet and a grey satin jacket, followed the movie with a brief history of 4,000-year old Korea with its population of 30 million.

In Transitional Period

"Korea is a peninsula about the size of Florida," she said. "There is one language and one culture and, before the war, there was no north nor south: it was just one country." The Japanese ruled Korea from 1910 to 1945 during which time the children had to learn Japanese.

Mrs. Pai explained that "we are now in a transitional period, going from an agricultural economy to an industrial one. Eighty per cent of the country's agricultural area lies in the south and the north is largely industrial. The land is now in the hands of farmers as the result of recent land reforms.

The teacher said the Buddhism was the chief religion for many centuries, but now the ancient temples are studied by the students as part of a past culture and the people have accepted the Christian religion. The Presbyterian Church is the strongest in Korea, she said, with the Catholic and Methodist faiths next.

Reds Seize Husband

Mrs. Pai's husband was one of the many Koreans arrested by the Communists. She has not heard from him since. She hopes to restore her school when she returns to Korea. In addition to her educational work, the diminutive lady has been a member of the YWCA, a member of the Election Committee for Congressman for the Korea capital and a member of the American Association for the United Nations.

After the talk, Mrs. Pai displayed hand-woven linens, silk hand-made jackets in many colors, exquisite, hand-embroidered scarves and other samples of the artistic needle-work of the women of Korea.

Mrs. Pai was introduced by Mrs. Walter C. Langsam.

Part of the program included "The Varga Girl Skit for 1953" of girls from the Delta Gamma Sorority at Gettysburg College, portraying the different months of the year. The cast included Miss Audrey Rawlings as "Mr. Varga," and the Misses Noel Parker, Lynn Rumbaugh, Jan Sachs and Nancy (Please Turn to Page 2)

FIVE-YEAR-OLD BOY KILLED IN MUMMASBURG

A five-year-old Mummasburg youngster died in the Warner Hospital Tuesday night a little more than three hours after he had been struck by an automobile in front of his home. He was Wayne Bowling, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Bowling, Mummasburg.

Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams County coroner, said death was due to a fractured skull. The boy also suffered internal injuries and bruise burns of the face, hands and left knee. Dr. Crist said no inquest will be held.

Runs In Front Of Car

State police of the Gettysburg substation said the Bowling youngster had been playing across the highway from his own home. He started to cross the road, police said, directly in the path of a car operated by Gerald C. McCarthy, 21, of Arendtsville. The McCarthy car was traveling north, police said.

McCarthy stopped, picked up the youngster, and with Mr. Bowling rushed him to the Warner Hospital, where he died at 8:50 p.m. without regaining consciousness.

Police said McCarthy told them the boy dashed in front of his car so suddenly he had no opportunity to avoid striking him. He was not held. The death makes the first automobile fatality in Adams County this year.

Six Buildings In Troop Area Destroyed By Allied Bombs

SEOUL (AP)—Allied fighter-bombers roared through overcast skies and hammered a Red troop concentration east of Kangdong in Northwest Korea today, the U. S. Fifth Air Force reported.

Six U. S. Sabre jets tangled with 10 Communist MIGs in cloud-weathed MIG Alley but Allied pilots made no damage claims.

Fighter-bomber pilots reported destruction of 16 Communist buildings in the Kangdong raid. Airmen reported three secondary explosions and two fires, indicating hits on ammunition or fuel stores.

Twelve Okinawa-based B29 Superforts last night pounded a fog-obscured 45-acre Red supply center south of Sariwon in Northwest Korea.

Overcast hampered night-raiding B26 invader bombers but the Air Force said one locomotive was destroyed and another damaged.

Little Ground Action

The U. S. Eighth Army summary reported only light ground activity. The Army said Allied troops killed at least 424 Chinese and North Korean Reds in savage fighting at both ends of the frozen war front in the past 24 hours.

U. S. raiders—members of a famed fighting outfit that cannot be identified for security reasons—wiped out an estimated 350 confused Chinese Reds in a hit-run strike at a Red fortress hill on the Western Front yesterday.

Headquarters also reported that South Koreans defending "Luke the Cook's Castle" on the Eastern Front killed 74 and wounded 27 North Koreans during a Communist attack on the Allied stronghold yesterday.

Lt. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor soon to take command of the Eighth Army from retiring Gen. James A. Van Fleet, arrived at Taegu today on the first leg of an inspection tour of South Korea.

FAVOR MERGER OF 3 BUREAUS TO SAVE MILLIONS

HARRISBURG (AP)—Three important Commonwealth departments—Health, Welfare and Public Assistance—would be merged under a Chesterman Committee recommendation to save an estimated 13 million dollars a biennium.

Chief item under the proposed economy plan would be transfer of 10 medical and surgical hospitals from state to local control. The committee said this could save 10 million every two years.

The report represented the committee's consideration of recommendations made by a "task force," or subcommittee, set up to study operations of the three departments. The "task force" report previously was made public.

$75 Million Savings

The report is No. 19 in a group of 30 to be presented to Gov. John S. Fine by the committee headed by Francis J. Chesterman, Philadelphia.

It brought the committee's recommended savings per biennium above the 75 million dollar mark for the reports released to date. About seven more studies are to be released in the next two weeks.

Consolidation of the three major departments, the committee said, could save at least a million dollars a biennium in administration costs alone.

The committee also recommended closing what it termed the "outmoded and obsolete" Soldiers and Sailors Home at Erie. Guests there could be transferred to other veterans' facilities to save $425,000 a biennium the committee said.

Curb Charity Cases

The group also urged more effective means of collecting fees from persons able to pay for treatment at state-owned hospitals.

It reserved judgement, however, on the Scotland School for Veterans Children in Franklin County and the Thaddeus Stevens School at Lancaster. The "task force" report, previously released, recommended dropping both as state-operated schools.

Warriors Hand Carlisle First South Penn Upset 46-38 As Second Half Race Is Opened

A determined hard-fighting Gettysburg High School basketball team pulled a big surprise here Tuesday night by upsetting Carlisle 46-38 as the second half of the South Penn Basketball League race got underway.

The defeat was the first in league competition this season for Carlisle who won the first half title by sweeping all seven games. The win marked the 10th against but four setbacks for Gettysburg during the season.

A good-sized crowd was on hand for the thriller, practically half of the fans being from Carlisle. It was a team victory all the way for Coach George Forney's Warriors who played minus the services of their husky center, Jim Skinner, who is out due to scholastic deficiency.

A six-point scoring spree at the close of the third period to overcome a 32-31 deficit sent the Warriors out in front for the remainder of the game after the score had been deadlocked and the lead saw-sawed throughout the first three frames.

After a minute of play Phil Benning, scoring ace for the Thundering Herd, landed a long one-handed stab. Several seconds later Bob Hixon tied it with a shot from the side. A foul by Jay Schmitt and close shot by George Penn tied it again at 5-5 and then the visitors moved ahead on goals by Delancy and Benning. A foul by Penn, jump shot by John Carter and two free tosses by Gus Dayhoff sent the Warriors ahead 10-9 before Benning knotted it on a free toss. Penn landed a long toss to give Gettysburg a 12-10 lead at the quarter.

Nip And Tuck Period
Dick Cypess and Carter exchanged goals to open the second period. Smith and Carter followed with foul conversions before Delancy knotted the score at 15-15 on a one-hander. Schmitt and Brumbaugh traded fouls. Gettysburg spurted on a long toss by Schmitt and foul by Skip Fisel. After Schmitt looped a short toss Schmitt converted a charity toss. A goal by Benning and free tosses by Smith and Brumbaugh enabled the visitors to lead at the half 22-21. Hixon finishing the scoring with a foul.

The lead see-sawed right after the third period got underway on goals by Penn and Smith. Bonifay landed a shot from the side before Schmitt hit on a long set. A pair of fouls by Fisel and a tap-in by Penn sent Gettysburg ahead 29-28 midway in the stanza. Bonifay and Penn exchanged goals and a foul by Smith tied it up at 31-31. Delancy netted a foul to give Carlisle its last lead at 32-31. A jump shot by Carter, two fouls by Hixon and a long toss by Schmitt put the Warriors in front 37-32 going into the final period.

Warriors Protect Lead
Benning and Cypess, who had been withdrawn in the third period after drawing their fourth personal fouls, returned to start the last quarter. Delancy opened with a foul and Benning connected from the side. Gettysburg started a stalling game and finally Penn stole a goal. Seconds later Fisel turned the same trick to make it 41-35 at the four-minute mark. After Brumbaugh tallied a layup, Fisel dribbled under for another two-point shot. Benning caged the second of two free tosses as Gettysburg passed the ball around waiting for the clock to run out. With 20 seconds remaining, Hixon landed the second of a pair of free throws and just as the game ended Dayhoff scored from underneath on a wide open shot.

Over-Flow Crowd To See Lebanon Valley Clash With Bullets

There is little doubt that standing room will be at a premium in the Gettysburg College gymnasium tonight when the Bullet cagers attempt to knock Lebanon Valley out of the ranks of the unbeaten.

Requests for tickets have been pouring into the college athletic office. The only reserved seats are those for holders of season tickets.

Lebanon Valley has won 10 in a row, its latest being a 91-76 win over Scranton. Leon Miller has averaged just short of 20 points per game in leading the Dutchmen's attack.

There will be no preliminary game tonight, the lone game starting at 8 o'clock.

JERSEY JOE TO MEET ROCKY IN CHICAGO APR. 10

NEW YORK (AP) — Both Heavyweight Champion Rocky Marciano and ex-Champ Jersey Joe Walcott are looking their chops today at the prospect of a million-dollar-plus gate for their April 10 title rematch at Chicago Stadium.

Jim Norris, president of the International Boxing Club, announced the bout yesterday after six weeks of wrangling about the site. The final agreement was made with Angela Malandra, attorney for the ailing Felix Bocchicchio, Walcott's manager. Each fighter will get 30 per cent of all receipts as provided in their return bout agreement in September before Rocky flattened Joe.

"I should draw over a million dollars, counting television," says Norris. "We have not signed a TV deal yet but we have had several preliminary conferences. April 10, you know, is Friday night, our regular Gillette night. The bout will be seen on home television and we expect to get between $250,000 and $300,000 for the rights with Chicago and Milwaukee blacked out."

Marciano, already training at Grossingers, N. Y., wasn't surprised to hear the news. He even started boxing last week end.

"I expected him to sign because I knew he wanted to fight as soon as possible. It didn't make any difference to me whether it was indoors in April or outdoors in June. But Al Weill (his manager) and I were so sure he'd sign that I've been up here training for three weeks."

Gettysburg Is Ideal Place For Little League Baseball Says Carl E. Stotz, Founder

"Gettysburg, because of its size and population, is an ideal place for the formation of Little League baseball," Carl E. Stotz, Williamsport, founder of the first Little League in that city in 1939, and now commissioner of Little League Baseball Inc. with more than 150,000 youthful players, told a meeting Tuesday night at the fire engine house.

Ira R. Kerr, director of recreation, presided and introduced Mr. Stotz. It was through M. Kerr's efforts that the latter came here to explain the objects and workings of Little League Baseball. Attending the meeting were members of the board of directors of the Recreation Association; representatives of the sponsors of the four teams proposed for the league here; prospective coaches and managers, and several from Chambersburg and other points who were desirous of obtaining Little League information.

To Sponsors 4 Teams
The Lions and Rotary Clubs, Moose and Glenn L. Bream Garage have agreed to sponsor the four teams for boys 12 years and under here this summer. Whether the proposed league will adopt Little League rules and pay the Little League registration fee of $20 has not been decided.

"I am primarily here to help you form a Little League," Mr. Stotz said. "Because Little League is primarily a neighborhood League proposition, it is ideally suited to this community."

Mr. Stotz said the first purpose of Little League Baseball "is to give the kids a chance to play baseball with the right kind of uniforms and equipment and the correct coaching and management."

In some respects, according to Mr. Stotz, Little League Baseball operates in reverse to the usual popular concepts of the sport. "Some of the things which are traditional in baseball are not 'Little League,' he pointed out.

Select Good Men
"We don't allow any player riding, or umpire baiting, for instance," he said.

"The first rule of local leagues should be to keep the operation in the hands of the men on the firing line," Mr. Stotz continued. "The officers and the coaches and managers, first of all, should be men with characters above reproach. They should be endowed with intellects to make the proper decisions in the heat of a game."

"In choosing a manager, you don't go out first to find an old baseball man who may know all about the game, but who knows very little about boys. In Little League you do just the opposite. Pick men to run your teams and your league who have time to devote to the work. Pick men interested and willing to give their time, not necessarily the 'white collar' fellow you select because you think his name will lend prestige to the organization."

Mr. Stotz said sponsors should not be allowed to interfere in the operation of a team. "The sponsor's job is to provide the annual contribution for his team. When he does, that ends his or the organization's responsibility. Sponsors, groups or individuals, should not be allowed to give picnics or banquets, or present trophies, unless they do so for the entire league."

Mr. Stotz said mimeographed letters should be sent to parents of boys in the 4th, 5th, and 6th grades and junior high, explaining Little League Baseball, and informing them, if they want their sons to play baseball, to fill out the applications. Tryouts are then held.

Player selection is based on the Little League policy that every boy shall have an adequate opportunity to try out for a position," Mr. Stotz said. "The tryouts should be complete, and spread out over a sufficient period in the spring to make them effective and worthwhile."

With a team limit of 15 players, there will usually be five 12-year-olds, five 11-year-olds, and five 10-year-olds and under. Player agents "sell" players to the team managers, Mr. Stotz said, using a point system instead of money. Each manager is allowed 36,000 points to buy players. He may pay a high price out of these points for one he considers a particularly valuable player, but this reduces his point fund so that he has less with which to buy other players, thus evening up the acquisition of players for the teams. The player so "bought" plays with the team that purchased him indefinitely, until sold, traded or released, Mr. Stotz said.

Following his talk he answered a number of questions relative to the operation of Little League Baseball. No other business was transacted.

Boys and Girls

Boiling Springs appears a sure bet to cop the Adams County Scholastic Basketball League title following Tuesday's games which resulted in the Bubbles stretching their lead over second-place Biglerville to three full games.

The Bubbles took their ninth straight loop decision without a defeat as they laced York Springs 87-37 at Boiling Springs. Eleven Bubbles broke into the scoring column while Danny Williams netted 13 for York Springs.

Biglerville was given a rude jolt at Newville as the home team took a 47-41 verdict. At half time the score was deadlocked at 15-15 but Newville came up with 19 tallies in the third period and then withstood a last period flurry by the Cannons.

Terry Hutton, Biglerville's scoring ace, missed the game due to illness. Dehoff landed 16 points for the Cannons while Zeigler stole the show for Newville with 27.

New Oxford put on a fast finish to gain a 48-39 triumph over Littlestown on the winners' floor. At the end of three periods New Oxford held a scant 35-33 margin. Dean Yealy and John Jacobs were the big point men for Littlestown while Kenny Ecker and John Kratzert led New Oxford.

East Berlin encountered little trouble in handing Fairfield its ninth straight setback 73-34. Jacque

BOB FELLER IS GIVEN TEN PCT. CUT IN SALARY

CLEVELAND (AP) — Bob Feller, on the mound as deliberate as a Supreme Court Justice, signed a 1953 Cleveland Indians contract yesterday after talking it over just seven minutes and 31 seconds.

The onetime fireball artist, who often gives batters the fidgets by taking so long between pitches, said he thought his negotiations with General Manager Hank Greenberg set a "new record" for brevity.

The former Iowa farm boy—who now lives in one of Cleveland's swankiest suburbs—got a bonus of less than $1,000 when he joined the Tribe in 1936. He never held out and has always been comparatively easy to come to terms with.

Greenberg declined to tell Feller's current salary, but sources close to the club said the strikeout king would get $40,000—a cut of about 20 per cent from last year, when he won 9 and lost 13. That was the first time he won less than half his games.

"With a little luck and better control," Feller said, "I might have another good season."

GOALIE SPARKS HORNETS' NEW SUCCESS STORY

By The Associated Press
Goalie Guy Mayer is the author of the latest chapter in the Pittsburgh Hornets' American Hockey League success story.

Mayer turned in his second straight shut out last night as the Hornets whipped Cleveland, 3-0, for the club's eighth successive victory and third straight at the expense of the Barons. The triumph boosted Pittsburgh into first place in the league standings with 54 points to Cleveland's 53.

John McCallan's second period goal would have been enough to win, but Chuck Lumsden and Andy Barbe added scores on solo dashes in the third just to make it decisive. It was Mayer's fifth shutout this season.

Reds Beat Flyers

In the only other game played, the Providence Reds outscored the St. Louis Flyers, 7-6, and climbed to within one point of the fifth place Syracuse Warriors. Defenseman Bert Bourassa was the Reds' hero, rapping in a goal after 28 seconds of overtime after Providence twice had wiped out two-goal deficits.

Rookie Guyle Fielder set up three of the St. Louis goals to tie Lorene Ferguson of Hershey for league scoring honors at 52 points each.

Ice Capades Star 2 Hockey Players

HERSHEY, Pa. — A couple of former hockey players who turned to clowning on a dare, Larry Jackson and Bernie Lynam, who provide comedy highlights with Ice Capades of 1953, opening at Hershey Sports Arena on Monday, February 23, are the lone members of the original Ice Capades company.

The boys were spectators at a small ice show in San Diego in 1938 when the comedy team failed to put in an appearance. They were persuaded to fill in and, despite an improvised routine, were the hit of the show.

While skating at small ice carnivals the pair was "discovered" by John H. Harris, producer of Ice Capades, and joined the cast of the first edition in 1940. They have since become a fixture.

In the current edition of the show they appear twice, first as a comedy ice dancing pair, and later as a couple of 1917 buck privates.

Other popular comedians with the Ice Capades include the Maxwells, slow-motion hand balancing team; Paul Castle, mid-set skater, and Charley Slagle's "Ladies of the Evening" quartet.

Phil and Jerry Smith accounted for 16 and 14 points respectively for Delone. Bill Shue landed 16 for Spring Grove.

The Delone reserves captured the preliminary game 43-39.

Lancaster Catholic will play at McSherrystown Friday night.

Today's Talk
PROGRESS?
I am a lover of books, as any reader of this brief column may have suspected. I get many books and always with a thrill. Many come to me as gifts, and so such ones create excitement and anticipation on my part. But why are these books sent cased, hermetically sealed, double wrapped, stapled in bags that spread their substance when finally the actual book appears?

For years and years a book arrived through the mail in a simple case, or easily broken paper or cardboard, and ready for immediate reading. Some literate gentleman wrote to Bennett Cerf, thinking that he could give a reason for all this fuss and fume about embalmment a book so securely, he replied: "I'm darned if I know an adequate answer."

I recently received a book that came in an elaborate heavy carded box. Then I unwrapped four more coverings, and then in tissue paper was the book itself! Not long before I received a book from London which took me but a few seconds to break its wrap, and there the book was, as immaculate as if it had just been handed to me from a bookshop counter.

Idea is wonderful if they are an improvement on the ideas that they are meant to replace. We live in a wonderful age, with improvements that are often dazzling, but there seems to be a rage for gadgets and new creations that confuse. Are we getting away from the simple life? Is speed the essential for the automobile we drive, rather than safety and comfort?

We have had two tragic world wars and the sample of a possible third one. No such destruction of the faith of the world has been so unhealing. The United Nations. What an inspiring title! But how far from being actually united in mind, in heart, and in purpose. One world of faith, of mutual trust, and peaceful co-operation would mean progress. That is what the free world is praying for — peace and good will — genuine progress.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Our Beliefs." Protected, 1953, George Matthew Adams Service

Just Folks
THE CHANGING VIEWPOINT
What's most important? To a boy The games he plays and all his dreams.
The pride of victory to enjoy To every lad important, seems.
At college with high marks to pass Urges ambitious youth to try, And as a leader of his class
Be honored as the years go by. Material success appears

His greatest goal when he's a man, And for his few declining years Win every comfort if he can.

But most important (grayed of hair) Is pride of loved ones, he'll decide. If this at last is his share, He will not miss what's been denied.

British Soldiers Are Worse Than Indians In Treatment Of Prisoners, "Yanks" Find

By CAPT. SAMUEL WHITE
(An autobiography of an Adams county man in the campaign of 1814 against the British and Indians in Canada.)
Captured by the Indians, after defeating the British, Captain White and two companions are hurried toward the retreating British soldiers.)

Fifth Installment
Faint and exhausted, I still hurried forward, exerting all my nerve, fearing that if I failed or fell, the tomahawk, the sound of which still rang in my ears, would soon give me my quietus; I had hopes too, that the moment of my deliverance from these wretches was not far distant, as I fully expected to be taken out of their hands as soon as we should have reached the British army. In this manner we gained the bridge, just as the last of the rear guard had got on it. The American round shot still rolling after us: one of them fell within a yard of me as I pressed forward, making the clay fly all over us, and then bounded into the creek; having completed our crossing, the bridge was cut down.

Worse Than Savages
What was my astonishment and indignation, when having come in company with those from whom I expected relief, to find them even worse than the savages, and that instead of respiting us, they encouraged them to run us still further, crying out who have you got there, a damned yankee?—Yes—well damn him, run him well, he's not half run yet; although I then thought it impossible for me to proceed twenty rods further without dropping dead. Thus situated, my mouth stretched wide open panting for breath, I was compelled to run between one and two miles further to the Indian encampment, still shoved forward as before, whenever I slackened my pace; my persecutors encouraged and cheered on by the brutal and unfeeling soldiery, who seemed to look upon the affair as mere amusement.

We were sent to the rear of the camp, and here, for the first time, I was permitted to sit down; in fact I was so weakened by previous fatigue, as to be unable to stand without support. Having recruited as much breath as enabled me to speak, I asked for a drink of water; they not understanding the language, I made a sign for what I wanted, when I was led between two to a pond, where I was permitted to drink—those only who have felt the same pressing necessity, can form any idea of the luxury of that draught.

They then led me back and I again resumed my seat on the ground. A few minutes afterwards I was surrounded by thirty or forty of these savages, all armed; they brought down their guns at an order and commenced a talk—here I sat for some time perfectly silent, but at length looking up at the fellow who had had me in custody, I asked him if they were going to kill me? He snatched up his rifle and raising it in both hands, brought it down with violence—he checked the fall, however, before it reached my head, and set it down as before, and casting at me a scowl of rage and hatred, resumed his place in the circle, from which the momentary act alluded to, had removed him. It may be well presumed that I had no very great anxiety to ask more questions.

Back To The British
Two or three Canadian officers now came up, one of whom appeared perfectly versed in the language; after some conversation between him and the Indians they opened the ring and admitted him to me; he asked a number of questions, where I was from? whether I was an officer or a private? and whether I knew if there were any other officers made prisoners, and if so whether I would not like to be with them? I informed him that Major Galloway was a prisoner in the British camp, and that I should be much pleased to have his company—he commenced another talk with the Indians and in a few minutes they began to disperse; after the crowd had pretty well cleared away, two of them came to me and taking me by the arms, one at each side, walked me back to the British camp, where we found Major Galloway still sitting on the ground, with his Indian guard beside him. We proceeded together and were in a few minutes brought into the presence of General Rial, who immediately commenced interrogating us, asking a number of questions, the truth of which I was determined he should not know from me.

One of his questions as to what number of troops we had, was addressed to Major Galloway, who seemed to hesitate, I answered for him, saying that we had something like five thousand; he replied that is not true sir, you know it is not, you have more than double that number. Had I then been acquainted with my privileges as a prisoner of war, I should not have made him an answer, as it was I excused myself, by telling him that I had computed them at that number from having seen them on parade and had never heard from any official source, what was the actual number of men in service.

Much Questioning
He then enquired our grade, and whether we were in the regular service, or in the militia, upon our replying that we belonged to the Pennsylvania volunteers—he exclaimed what business had you to cross the frontier? We crossed, sir, in obedience to orders. Who could give such orders, sir, I thought no militiaman or volunteer could be ordered out of the United States! They can, sir, in case of insurrection or invasion. Well, sir, have you an insurrection among you? No, thank heaven, and I hope we never shall, but, sir, we have invasion. How is that, sir? where? I replied, have you not Fort Niagara in your possession? Then, sir, said he, why did you not go there? I answered, we were not ordered there.

When I complained that we had been badly treated, having had our clothes stripped off us, that we had been robbed of money to the amount of about one thousand dollars, and that all we requested was to have our clothes returned as we were not accustomed to going naked, he gave us to understand that all the Indians got was legitimate spoil and could not be returned—he then called two sergeants and gave one of them orders to take that fellow, meaning me, and keep him safe until tomorrow morning, when I shall demand him at your hand—to the other he gave similar directions concerning Galloway, and turning upon his heel with a smile, joined his officers who were seated outside of the door on benches, round a table covered with glasses.

No Bounty For Scalps
I forgot to state, that when I had informed him of the murder of Col. Bull, and that he had been scalped by the Indians, his reply was—I do not believe he has been scalped, as signing at the same time as his reason for not so believing, that at that time they gave nothing for scalps.

We were now carried off by the sergeants and separated—we were compelled to be behind the breastworks, on the bare ground, without tent or covering of any kind. I suffered severely from the cold, in consequence of having been overheated during the day, and then stripped of my clothing. In the night I took a chill, and shook as if I had the ague; I am confident I should have perished but for the humanity of the sergeant, who had charge of me, in lending me his old watch coat, and a handkerchief to the round my head; he also gave me a dram from his canteen—he, poor fellow, had been a prisoner amongst the Americans, and candidly acknowledged, that he had been well treated.

In the morning he applied for rations for Galloway and myself, and returned without having been able to obtain any—this was continued for three days in succession, during which time we sustained life merely through the charity of our friendly guard. On the first morning after the battle, having heard that a flag of truce was about to be sent to the American camp, asking the privilege of burying their dead, I enquired whether a letter would be carried for me, and was told that it would, but that it must be sent open.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (P)—The high command of the AFL was reported today convinced of the need for an accelerated political action program aimed at the 1954 congressional elections.

Top AFL leaders scheduled a meeting with James P. McDevitt, head of the big labor federation's political arm, called Labor's League for Political Education.

McDevitt has prepared an exhaustive analysis of last year's election which reportedly indicates that, in the view of the AFL, candidates supported by organized labor fared relatively well.

Edict To Longshoremen
The AFL set a precedent at its convention last fall with an all-out endorsement of the Democratic presidential ticket. Never before had an AFL convention gone on record in favor of any presidential candidate.

Although today's business at this midwinter council meeting in the Monte Carlo Hotel was strictly politics, council members seemed frankly proud of the unprecedented edict they wrote yesterday ordering the AFL International Longshoremen's Association to purge itself of all elements of crime and corruption by April 30.

Some council members, in fact, appeared inclined toward the view that the AFL Constitution gives the council authority to take even more drastic crackdown action than the "clean-up-or-else" order issued yesterday.

Extension Possible
AFL President George Meany up to now has emphasized that only the convention itself could expel an affiliated union from the federation.

Meany told a reporter he doubted whether the 60,000-man AFL affiliate could rid its own ranks of crime and corruption along the New York and New Jersey waterfronts within the three-month period allotted by the council.

But Meany and other members of the 15-man council, top governing body of the eight-million-member federation, indicated that if Union President Joseph P. Ryan or other union leaders could show "real and honest improvement" by April 30 the council would likely extend the cleanup period.

Every Woman Can Snatch Some Victory Morsel From Disaster

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—A woman is able to snatch from disaster some morsel of feminine victory.

They know life too thoroughly ever to let it keep them behind the eight-ball very long. For example:

Over the week end Frances and I visited at the suburban home of our two godchildren—Nina, half-past five, and Zona, going on four.

It was so cold Sunday that the little sisters had to stay indoors and by nightfall they were somewhat bored. Nina wandered into the kitchen and picked up Jet, the family cat.

"Let me hold her," said Zona, tugging at the cat.

"No," said Nina. And when she persisted, Nina reached out and bopped her on the head. Zona immediately began to wail.

"No hitting!"

The mother, Helen, had seen the entire incident. Punishment was in order. The sisters are allowed to fuss, but Nina had shattered the first law of the household: "No hitting!"

Helen called her husband, George, and explained the crisis. "All right, Nina," he said. "Go up to your room and you and I will have a talk."

There was complete silence as Nina, embarrassed and guilty, trudged with averted face past her grandma and Frances and me. We were silent, too. Nina is usually such a perfect lady it hits like a thunderclap when she does anything wrong.

After talking with her George came down and announced:

"Stay upstairs!"

"I told her to change into her pajamas and stay upstairs until 7:30 and think about what she had done."

At 6:32 a small sound of weeping filtered downstairs.

At 6:33 Helen went upstairs, and returned saying:

"Nina has decided she'll clean grandma's room."

Zona suddenly found she had to go to the bathroom. Up the stairs she went. The weeping overhead ceased. When Zona came down, George asked:

"What did you say to Nina?"

"Nothing, daddy," fibbed Zona gallantly. He let it pass.

At 6:40 Frances had to go upstairs, and came back with the word, "She's lying on the bed, looking real serious."

Grandma Speaks Up

At 6:44 grandma said, "George, don't you think—?" Zona said, "Daddy, can't Nina come down now?" And George, who was getting fidgety, too, said, "all right."

To me let the honor of summoning the little culprit from exile. I found her staring thoughtfully at the ceiling. When I told her to put on her robe and come downstairs, she wanted to be sure the reprieve had gone through channels.

British Naval Ship Capsized In Storm

The British naval frigate Berkeley Castle lies on its side, a victim of the storm, in this air view of Sheerness naval dockyard near the mouth of the Thames. The frigate was flipped over in its dock berth by gales which caused wide-spread damage along England's east coast and reached national disaster proportions along the Holland and Belgian coastal areas.

SUGGESTS U. S. SUPPLY PLANES FOR CHINESE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.) suggested today the United States supply planes to Formosa's Chinese Nationalists to bomb Red China just as Russia is providing aircraft to the Reds in Korea.

Fulbright's proposal was made in an interview as other Congress members defended against British criticism President Eisenhower's order to the Seventh Fleet to free the Nationalists for attacks on the China mainland.

Among these, Sen. Cooper (R-Ky.), a former representative to the United Nations, said he fears that organization won't do anything effective to end the Korean War.

Least Dangerous Step

"The British don't like it, but we have got to act for ourselves in this matter," Cooper said. "President Eisenhower's action is the least dangerous step we could take right now that promises some relief in Korea."

Fulbright said he isn't familiar with the military necessities involved, but feels that if the U. S. transferred bombers to the Chinese Nationalist Air Force and helped train pilots for them, it might be possible to raid Red China's communication lines.

"The Russians are furnishing planes and training pilots for the Communist Chinese in Korea," he said. "We certainly would have a precedent for such action."

House GOP Leaders Prepared To Introduce FEPC Measure

HARRISBURG (AP)—The House Republican leadership readied legislation today to ban discrimination in employment or union membership because of race, creed, color or national origin.

Rep. Albert W. Johnson (McKean), Republican floor leader, said the administration-backed measure would be introduced in the House when the Legislature reconvenes next Monday.

Both Republicans and Democrats are pledged to enact an FEPC bill. Gov. John S. Fine is known to be particularly anxious to succeed where former Gov. James H. Duff, now a U. S. Senator, failed in pushing such a measure through the Legislature.

Fine came close in the 1951 Legislature. The administration's FEPC bill passed the House by a 160-38 vote but died in the Senate Judiciary General Committee. A 12-12 tie vote in that committee failed to release the controversial measure.

Same As 1951 Bill

Johnson said the new FEPC legislation would be practically identical to the 1951 measure. It would set up a three-man commission to administer the law. Violators would be subject to a $1,000 fine or a year in jail, or both.

The bill also would allow anyone encountering discrimination in industry or labor unions to complain to the commission. The commission also would have power to make a probe on its own.

Employers would be denied the right to question prospective employees concerning their religious beliefs or racial background. It would likewise restrict persons seeking jobs to advertise their religious beliefs.

Plans New Mansion

In another development Sen. Fred P. Hare (R-Somerset) disclosed he would seek to revive once again the question of housing the governor in a new executive mansion.

Hare, GOP whip, said he will introduce a bill next Monday to permit sale of the 89-year-old mansion. Former Gov. Arthur H. James started the ball rolling on this project in 1941, but the two million dollar project was abandoned by Duff.

The present executive mansion, first occupied in 1864, has been virtually abandoned as a residence by Fine. He, instead, uses the summer mansion at Indiantown Gap, 20 miles from here.

The two-day legislative session this week failed to produce any Americans involved in any such venture, adding that the planes should be transferred to Chiang Kai-shek's forces and piloted by his men.

Representatives Short (R-Mo) and Richards (D-SC) said the House was in no mood to be influenced by the British position.

"The British are only trying to save Hong Kong and their commercial interests in China," said Richards, former chairman of the foreign affairs committee. "The sooner they realize this is a delusion, the better."

DEFENSE DEPT. TAKES LOOK AT ITS SPENDING

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Department of Defense, which spends well over half the government's money, is taking an Eisenhower-inspired close look at its $46,300,000,000 proposed budget.

This is in line with a White House directive to the entire government to re-examine policies for spending and for hiring new workers. The goal: economy.

"In a sense, the Defense Department will open up the whole military program for review," declared Assistant Defense Secretary W. J. McNeill. He made clear the new economy combing would include equipment procurement, construction and military manpower levels.

3 Basic Rules

But McNeill also said he was confident the economy drive decreed yesterday by the Budget Bureau with President Eisenhower's blessing contained "nothing... that will wreck any defense program."

The huge Defense Department, like all other government agencies, was bound by the three basic rules laid down by Budget Director Joseph M. Dodge:

1. Hiring of government workers is to be suspended until in each case it can be determined if the job can be eliminated or done by employees already on the payroll.

Start Budget Trimming

2. Construction is to be limited to "clearly essential" projects built under "strictest standards of economy."

3. Operations are to be conducted at a minimum spending level, with any unnecessary activities eliminated.

It was plain the orders were intended as getting down to business on the Republican promise to trim the $78,900,000,000 budget for the year beginning July 1 which former President Truman sent Congress 11 days before leaving office.

Dodge asked all agencies to submit detailed economy plans next month.

Of the 15 players on the Florida State basketball roster, only three come from the state of Florida.

ROTARY, LIONS HONOR SCOUTS AT DINNER MEET

Approximately 100 were in attendance at the banquet by the local Rotary and Lions Clubs in honor of the Littlestown Boy Scouts on Tuesday evening in the social hall of Redeemer's Reformed Church. In addition to the invited Scouts Scoutmaster Edgar A. Wolfe, assistant Scoutmaster Paul E. Renner and Cubmaster George E. Hornberger were also present. Thomas C. McSherry, a member of the Rotary Community Service Committee, acted as emcee. Mr. McSherry introduced the guest speaker, Joseph Garrety, civil defense chairman of the greater York area, of York, who spoke to the group about civil defense and how the Boy Scouts can help in connection with the program. The program for the evening also included several films shown on Camp Tuckahoe by Edward B. Bullett, of Gettysburg. Guests in attendance at the affair included Irvin Hostetter, Albert Bair and Walter Johnson, of town.

Assisting Mr. McSherry on the program committee were Rotarians Donald Z. Mann, Nevaeh A. Crouse, Richard A. Little, Luther W. Ritter and Charles M. Weikert. The meal was served by the Ladies' Aid Society of Redeemer's Church. The next regular meeting of the Rotary will be held Tuesday, February 10, 6:15 p.m. at Schott's Hotel, in charge of the Program Committee composed of Paul R. Snyder, chairman, Charles E. Ritter, Mervin Harner, A. W. Schott, A. G. Ealy and Clyde W. Crouse. The next meeting of the Lions Club will be held Thursday, February 19, 7 p.m. at Banker's Restaurant, in charge of the Health and Welfare Committee consisting of Stanley D. Bowersox, James M. Smith and Walter C. Myers.

The Littlestown Junior Chamber of Commerce held its first February meeting on Monday evening at Schott's Hotel with the president, Robert H. Miller presiding. It was decided to hold a white elephant auction sometime in May. Residents of the community are asked to contribute articles for the auction and they have been reminded that any articles they may wish to dispose of through housecleaning will be accepted by the Jaycees. Articles to be contributed for the affair will be collected now and stored until May, if desired. Preliminary plans were made to conduct the fourth annual community music festival during the summer. The next regular meeting of the Jaycees will be held Monday, February 16.

News Of Interest To Upper Communities Of County

Research And Its Application Can Fill World's Food Demands, Speaker Tells Fruit Growers

"The tremendous increases expected in the world's population will make necessary great increases in the production of food," Dr. R. E. Larson, head of the department of horticulture at Pennsylvania State College, told the county Fruit Growers Association last Saturday at the organization's annual all-day meeting in the C. H. Musselman cafeteria at Biglerville.

Observing that census figures estimate the U. S. will have a population of 193,000,000 by 1975, Dr. Larson continued:

Can Boost Production
"Whether we will reach that 193,000,000 population figure is a question. Many factors enter into it. But while our population may not increase so swiftly, the population of much of the rest of the world will increase tremendously. Our population increase won't come as fast as the rest because most of our babies now are living to become adults. Other countries, where infants die by the thousands, will with increased sanitation and medical skill probably double their populations. Already many countries are seeking food from us, and that demand will probably increase."

"But there are possibilities of increasing our production. Today we produce our vegetables, peanuts, etc., on only five per cent of the tillable acreage in the U. S. On five per cent of our tillable acreage we produce 33 per cent of the diet of each person in the country."

"The remainder of our land is devoted to production of crops that are fed to animals and then we eat the animals. Here is an opportunity for a vast increase in production. It has been estimated that the amount of grass growing on the one billion acres devoted to livestock can be increased from two to six times just by using knowledge of pasture development that we already have. Think what a vast increase we can have in livestock production if we ever put our knowledge into effect. And it looks like we will have to do it."

"We can effect great increases in production if we expand our research program. Already the results of research are paying off. A few years ago a ten-ton-per-acre tomato club was established, because ten tons was a high production and we felt those who produced so much should be honored. Today you have to produce 20 to 30 tons per acre to be in the same class. A few years ago 400 bushels of potatoes to the acre was exceptional; today it is almost standard."

"In poultry, through research we have reached a point where we are getting twice as many eggs per chicken. Once it took nearly 600 pounds of feed to put 100 pounds of meat on pork, now it takes 480 pounds of feed, and research will soon make it possible to produce 100 pounds of pork per 375 pounds of feed."

Get Report On FTC Case
A quartet comprising Owen Taylor, Fred Garretson, Elaine Taylor and Mrs. Richard Slaybaugh sang several numbers. County Agent M. T. Hartman served as toastmaster at the dinner session.

A three-page report on the Federal Trade Commission hearings concerning charges of price fixing in the apple industry was presented to the 300 growers present for the dinner session. The report pointed out that the growers are defendants in the FTC hearings as well as the processors and that "penalties could be severe. In short it is a serious matter and means all of us. It is not just a processors' problem. We should ask ourselves how these charges came to be made. What did we, growers or processors, do or say or publish that could lead to such misunderstanding? We know we are innocent, but we don't want such happenings again. They cost too much in time and money and the general public which usually sees only the charges, not the denials, takes a long time to forget them."

Farm Calendar

Get Soil Tested—Mail soil sample to the soil testing laboratory at the Pennsylvania State College as soon as possible. James Eakin, extension agronomist, says you will avoid the March rush and you will get your report in time to order the lime and fertilizer needed to supply the deficiencies shown by the test.

Use Dependable Seed—Robert Fletcher, Penn State extension vegetable specialist, points out that if you had especially good results with the seeds that you planted last year, then repeat that order giving the stock number of the variety or strain if possible. Be sure to order early, before seed stocks are exhausted.

Prune Fruit Trees—When fruit trees are properly pruned, says Carl Bittner, Penn State extension pomologist, the fruit growers can do the right kind of a job of spraying, thinning, and harvesting. The trees to be pruned first are those expected to blossom and bear heavily during the coming season.

Many raindrops carry electrical charges, most of which have been shown to be positive.

BIGLERVILLE HIGH SCHOOL BAND WILL PLAY AT TALENT SHOW

The Biglerville High School band will present a half hour concert prior to the amateur show to be held at the South Mountain Fairgrounds March 21. A. H. Good, chairman for the amateur program, said today.

The show is scheduled to be held to raise funds towards the payment of the debt still outstanding on the Memorial auditorium at the fairgrounds, and is one of a number of activities scheduled for the near future to raise funds toward paying off the debt of the fair association.

Fair association officials at present are also discussing the possibility of holding professional wrestling exhibitions at the fairgrounds because of the interest engendered in the activity by televised exhibitions.

To Develop Talent
While no decision has been reached on wrestling, pending a determination of possible support of such programs, the heads of the association are discussing the possibility of holding two amateur nights a year both as a means of raising money and as a method of assisting in the development of entertainment talent in the county.

At the present time 15 amateurs, including pianists, singers, a "hill-billy" outfit, and an "old time quartet" as well as dancers, have signed for the March 21 production.

The fair association is seeking as great a number of amateurs as possible, and if sufficient "acts" are secured two shows will be held, one March 21 and the other at a later date.

Persons planning to enter the amateur show are asked to contact A. H. Good, phone Gettysburg 955-R-13, to make arrangements for participation. The fair association needs to know what type of "act" each entrant has in order to balance the show.

Names of judges for the event and the prizes to be awarded will be announced in the near future.

ARRANGE PLANS IN ARTIFICIAL BREEDING TEST

An experiment in artificial breeding, the first time it has been carried out on such a large scale, will begin in March on a large number of farms throughout the state, Roy Heckenluber, Biglerville R. 1 poultryman and chairman of the state Poultry Federation's Artificial Breeding Committee, said today.

Fifteen hundred turkeys will be used for artificial breeding at the Heckenluber farm, and similar large numbers will be used on other farms throughout the state.

Heckenluber said two employees of the Sex-Egg Co. of Lancaster have been trained in the work and will devote their entire time to the project from March through May, the period when turkey hens produce the 40 to 60 eggs each that become the roast turkey on the nation's tables at Thanksgiving and Christmas time.

The artificial breeding is being inaugurated to increase the number of fertile eggs produced from about 50 per cent to 85 or 90 per cent, Heckenluber said.

Seek More "White Meat"
Modern consumers demands, for a small, compact turkey with a large breast, is responsible for the lack of fertile eggs under normal breeding methods, the Biglerville R. D. poultryman added.

With California toms introduced this year weighing 40 pounds, much of the weight in "white meat," the need for artificial breeding is even more important. The short legs, compact body and huge breast permit the birds to little more than "move about slowly, generally they just stand and watch the world go by," Heckenluber reported.

"But they produce heavy breasted compact turkeys and that is what is needed today."

The hens are to be impregnated about every ten days. Heckenluber said, with turkey hens laying their eggs in "clutches" of about 20 the first time and then in smaller numbers in later periods.

While artificial breeding has proven a great boon to turkey production in smaller experiments at State College, this year will mark the first time that it has carried out in "commercial" fashion.

The two men handling the turkeys can take care of about 100 turkeys an hour as far as impregnation is concerned. The usual "help" at the farms will have to catch the turkeys and have them ready for the inseminators.

The turkey eggs take four weeks to hatch and then it takes the baby turkey 24 weeks to grow to market size.

Nearly 9½ million turkeys are owned and operated in the United States.

Plans for participation by the Biglerville Boy Scouts, Cubs and Explorers in the Merit Badge Show to be held by the Black Walnut District February 31 at the Hotel Gettysburg annex were outlined Monday evening at a meeting held at the Biglerville High School.

Attending the planning session were Donald E. Horst, Troop 71 committee chairman; John E. Thomas, secretary-treasurer of the troop committee; Scoutmaster Samuel Ehlman; Explorer Scout Advisor Kenneth Lawver and District Commissioner Walter Morse.

With present enrollment in the Boy Scout troop totalling 13 and membership in the Explorer unit listed as nine, both units are planning a requirement drive in the near future, it was announced. Membership in the Scout troop is scheduled to jump with the "graduation" of a number of Cub Scouts into Boy Scouting. Morse reported Cubbing activities as progressing well in Biglerville, and added that meetings of the Cub Scout dens have been "very well attended."

Scouts, Cubs and Explorers are scheduled to complete a number of projects for the merit badge show which will display the various skills learned by scouts in their merit badge work.

The merit badge show will be open from 2 p.m. to 9 p.m. Saturday, February 21, at the Hotel Gettysburg annex. Admission will be free. In addition to the merit badge displays by the various Scout units of the district, motion pictures will be shown of various Scout activities.

Heavy Island Loss

Het Vrije Volk said that the death toll on the Zeeland island of Schouwen-Duiveland alone may be nearly 1,000. It quoted the burgomaster of Zierikzee as saying between 300 and 400 persons drowned in the town of Nieuwerkerk, on that island.

The new gale warning was announced for the North Sea area. Accompanying the grim forecast was a British Air Ministry prediction that strong winds developing farther south during the day will "tend to heighten the tides on the East Coast."

Already a biting wind was whipping up the sea again along England's Norfolk—hit hard by the rushing waters which high tides and hurricane winds sent pouring

SEEKS TO BAN DEATH PENALTY

HARRISBURG (AP)—All capital punishment in Pennsylvania would be abolished under a new bill being studied by the House Judiciary Committee.

The measure, introduced yesterday by Rep. Francis J. Worley (R-Adams), would wipe out the present death sentence for a first degree murder conviction. Jurors now have the choice of recommending death or life imprisonment.

Worley, a Quaker, proposed that convicted slayers would be eligible for parole only after serving one-half of their remaining life expectancy.

Medical and psychological examinations would be required before paroles were granted under the bill.

Another Worley bill would give a convicted traffic law violator the right to request a trial by jury in case of an appeal to a county court. Present appeals from decisions of justices of the peace and aldermen are heard by judges without juries.

EIGHT MADE HOMELESS

POTTSVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Eight persons are homeless today as the aftermath of a fire which swept through three frame houses in near-by Llewellyn on Monday. The blaze started in a building housing the home and grocery store of Clifford Story and quickly spread to adjoining houses. No estimate of the damage was available.

over the land Sunday.

The raging waters subsided somewhat in Britain and Belgium but a thousand square miles of Holland—hardest hit of the three countries—remained buried under a blanket of deadening salt water.

Damage was reckoned in uncalculated millions of dollars. In Britain more than 400 square miles were flooded. In Brussels, newspaper estimates placed Belgian losses in the neighborhood of 20 million dollars.

The final death toll in the disaster may exceed 2,000. The latest count from official and the best available unofficial sources was:

Holland, 1,053.
England, 377.
Lost in ships at sea, 169.
Belgium, 14.
Total, 1,613.
An estimated 80,000 persons were homeless, 30,000 in Britain and 50,000 in Holland. Thousands were believed still missing in the two countries.

15 Yanks Lose Lives
Bodies of four more Americans were recovered from their homes on England's east coast today, raising the toll of known American dead to 15. Three others were still missing and presumed lost.

Along with the desperate race to save persons still trapped in trees, attics, on dikes and other surrounded high places, workers faced the grim task of rebuilding dikes against the threat of coming high spring tides that might again force waters far inland.

But help and offers of aid have poured into the stricken countries from all over the world, along with messages of deepest sympathy. New flood threats developed last night in both Britain and Holland.

A new break in the dikes was reported at Rommel on the north coast of the twin Dutch islands of Goeree-Overflakke. Seas roared inland through a hole 35 yards wide and five yards deep. Rommel has a population of 2,000.

In Britain, the Ouse River broke its banks in East Anglia. Homes in Watlington and St. Germans were evacuated and fears were expressed that the city of Kings Lynn might be cut off.

CHANGES VOTED IN WATER RATES IN YORK SPRINGS

A change in water rates for consumers in the borough of York Springs, raising the minimum charge to metered users but reducing rates to be charged for some quantities of water above the first 8,000 gallons, has been placed in effect by an ordinance adopted recently by the York Springs Borough Council.

New rate cards have been prepared and will be distributed to York Springs by members of the council in connection with a town-wide survey of the properties of persons connected with the town water system.

For industrial and commercial users and for other properties where the water is measured by meter, the rate will be 50 cents per 1,000 gallons for the first 8,000 gallons. For the next 10,000 gallons the rate is 45 cents per thousand gallons, for the next 23,000 gallons 35 cents per thousand and for all over 41,000 gallons 25 cents per thousand.

Charges For Non-metered Users

This schedule replaces the former one in which there was a $3 charge for 1,500 gallons or less. For the next 5,000 gallons, the charge was 55 cents per thousand; for the next 15,000 gallons, 35 cents per thousand; for the next 20,000 gallons, 30 cents per thousand, and for all over 44,500 gallons, 25 cents per thousand.

As set forth in the new ordinance which bears the signatures of Council President E. E. Nell, Secretary Lynn E. Smith and Burgess E. S. Myers, this schedule of yearly water rentals is prescribed for domestic users not using meters: Miscellaneous water service per family, $12; outside spigot, each family, additional, $3, and additional spigot at barn, $3. A special rate is provided for special uses of water such as by masons or plasterers.

The ordinance requires permits to be issued before connections to the town system can be made and provides for fines or jail sentences for violations of provisions of the measure.

mindful that the state has erected a historical site marker along the main road but the latter added that the dirt road leading toward the marker looks so uninviting that few travelers venture a visit to the marker erected in honor of the first white settler west of the Susquehanna.

President George W. Baker, Abbotstown, presided at the meeting with nearly 50 members present. He announced the appointment of Charles S. Diller of Hanover to the Membership Committee.

At the request of descendants, the society voted to turn over the original of a 1847 marriage certificate of Hugh Scott and Elizabeth Eyer to members of their family with the latter to supply the society with a photostat of the old paper. The certificate had been found in the society's museum and requested as a keepsake by Mrs. M. O. Rice and Mrs. Ruth Wisler.

Membership At New High

Accessions announced by Dr. Robert Fortenbaugh for the Museum Committee included 13 stereoscopic views of a Newport camp of a Gettysburg Fishing club in 1880: a book of J. Howard Wert's poetry, "Camp and Hearth"; genealogical material on the James Gettys family, and from Mrs. Alice Koons, York Springs, papers relating to the erection in 1826 of the first school building in York Springs.

Treasurer Harry T. Stauffer reported 64 paid up members in the society for this year, a new high figure for February, and a Necrology Committee report listed the deaths of these members: 1952: Mrs. William Arch McClellan, F. Mark Bream, Miss Margaret Myers and E. A. Crouse.

Dr. Fortenbaugh said the society's collection of old almanacs is growing and invited gifts of other issues. Maurice Stoops showed his collection of color pictures of the Lincoln Pageant given here last October.

Find Lost Ring On Captured Korean

FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP)—Lt. Col. Warren Hecker of Vineland, N. J., lost his West Point class ring in Korea in October, 1951, while leading an attack near Heartbreak Ridge.

Soon after he returned to the United States, he purchased a duplicate ring.

Recently, a captured North Korean officer was seen wearing a West Point ring on his finger. A military police officer spotted it and saw that the name "Warren Hecker" was engraved on the inside.

The MP, presuming Hecker to be dead, asked the Military Academy to find Hecker's next of kin.

Hecker, now at Ft. Benning, is wearing his original ring.

DULLES DINES WITH WINNIE

LONDON (AP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles had lunch today with Prime Minister Churchill. Informal sources said Dulles has been told Britain strongly disapproves of the United States action denaturalizing Formosa.

Dulles met privately before the luncheon with Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, who outlined to Dulles Britain's fears regarding the move which leaves Chinese Nationalists free to raid their Communist-ruled homeland.

Dulles' reply was not disclosed. He was expected to assure the British the new U. S. administration has no intention to expand the Korean War.

Stassen At Luncheon

Present also at the luncheon at Churchill's official residence were Eden, Mutual Security Administrator Harold Stassen and U. S. Charge d'Affaires Julius C. Holmes. The general Far Eastern

TAKES WIFE FOR TRUCE WALK AND STRANGLES HER

NORRISTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Montgomery County police said today a 25-year-old Souderton man admitted "in a rambling statement" that he strangled his wife in Souderton Community Park Monday night after an argument over their domestic troubles.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Bernard J. Joseph said George L. Derbyshire will be charged with homicide at a hearing in the Montgomery County Court.

Di Joseph said Derbyshire had a history of a nervous condition and that he would recommend the county appoint a psychiatrist to examine the accused man to determine whether he should stand trial on the murder charge.

Di Joseph said Derbyshire gave this version of the strangling: His wife, Florence, and his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Kaler, who lived with them, were not "getting along."

His wife left their home Saturday and went to live with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey P. Glemmer, at their Souderton residence. He went to the Clemmer home on Sunday and the pair discussed a reconciliation.

Strangled With Rope
Derbyshire returned Monday night and asked his wife to take a walk with him.

When they arrived at the deserted bandstand in the park, they began their arguments anew and Derbyshire removed a rope he had

Finishes Engineer School In Germany

MURNAU, GERMANY — Sergeant First Class Ralph E. Megonnell, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Megonnell, New Oxford R. 1, recently graduated from the U.S. Army Engineer School in Murnau, Germany.

He received training in supervisory duties for military engineering projects, qualifying as a combat engineer non-commissioned officer.

SFC. Megonnell is an assistant platoon sergeant in the 17th Armored Engineer Battalion stationed in Mainz, Germany.

He entered the Army in July 1950 and has been awarded the Combat Infantryman Badge, Army of Occupation for service in Japan, U.N. Service Ribbon and Korean campaign medal.

in his pocket and strangled his wife.

Di Joseph quoted Derbyshire as saying he remembered leaning over his wife's prostrate body and then blacked out.

He was then quoted as saying he returned to his home and told his mother what he had done.

Mrs. Kaler telephoned a friend, Robert Ehret, who notified police. Ehret and Patrolman Robert Kulp went to the park and found the body.

Mrs. Derbyshire was pronounced dead on arrival at Grand View hospital, Sellersville, in adjoining Bucks County shortly after midnight. Di Joseph estimated she had been dead about three hours.

Police then went to the Derbyshire residence and arrested the dead woman's husband.
